India is one of the fastest-growing economies, and knowledge creation and research are essential to sustaining this growth. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 emphasizes the importance of multidisciplinary education and flexible degree structures to enhance higher education in the country.

In line with these changes, Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) are encouraged to offer a range of Master's programs and adapt to new guidelines, such as the Learning Outcomes-based Curriculum Framework (LOCF) and the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS).

To support the implementation of NEP 2020, a Faculty Development Program (FDP) is designed to help educators understand the objectives of the policy and incorporate these insights into curricula and teaching methods, thereby improving the quality of education. The goal is to empower educators and strengthen academic standards by making higher education more flexible, accessible, and responsive to the evolving needs of students.

The eternal spiritual current, when awakened, transforms timeless philosophy and immortal ideals into a living force. Over time, this becomes a concrete reality and ultimately reaches fulfillment.

Today's Ramakrishna Mission Vidyamandira is a realization of Swami Vivekananda's timeless vision. In 1898, he dreamt of an educational institution where the ancient Eastern "Gurukula" system would harmonize with the scientific outlook of the West. In light of this noble vision, the authorities of the Ramakrishna Mission (Belur Math) established Ramakrishna Mission Vidyamandira in 1941 under the supervision of Saradapitha.

Initially, it began as an Intermediate Arts College in 1941. Creating history often requires enduring many long and difficult years. From starting as an Intermediate Arts College, then becoming a three-year degree college in 1966, to achieving autonomous status and being recognized as "A College with Potential for Excellence" by the University Grants Commission (UGC) in 2010—Vidyamandira's journey is a testament to how an institution can march confidently on the path of higher education, overcoming numerous challenges. Postgraduate programmes began in the academic year 2006–2007, and in 2013, the Swami Vivekananda Research Centre was established to facilitate multidisciplinary research possibilities. In 2024, the second campus of Vidyamandira, named "Bose House," was inaugurated.

Rishra, Hooghly 712248

As an extension of Vidyamandir's academic vision and institutional growth, a second campus has recently taken shape at Rishra, Hooghly. Centred around the historic Bose House—once the residence of Sri Sharat Chandra Bose and inseparably linked with the revered memory of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose—this campus represents a new thematic dimension of the institution's journey.

Conceived as a Cultural and Educational Advancement Centre, the Rishra campus presently offers more than fifty certificate courses in online, offline, and hybrid modes, alongside competitive entrance coaching programmes (NEET and Nursing), internship programmes aligned with NEP 2020, teacher-training initiatives under the aegis of the UGC Malaviya Mission Teacher Training Centre (MMTTC), and a wide range of seminars and workshops held throughout the year. Regular community-oriented activities, including medical camps and service programmes, form an integral part of its functioning. At present, nearly one thousand students from across the state and the country are enrolled here. Significantly, this campus stands among the few Ramakrishna Mission institutions where, along with male students, female students also have the opportunity to pursue their studies in the pursuit of excellence in their lives.
